

Date taken: August 10, 2006

Photographer: Patty Burns

Direction: Southwest

Site name: Permafrost notch

Discussion: Here is a picture of a permafrost notch where the main channel is eroding under the permafrost because it's frozen. There is also some sweepers where the trees are falling into the river due to erosion. I wanted to show this picture because it shows some stuff about erosion.