

Norman Hadley Island Story

Norman Hadley was a Canadian and didn't want to become a citizen. He had a trading post there, his first place. He sold wood to steamers and was a moonskiner. Norman Hadley had an outhouse right before you turn into the Rosie Creek. When he was using it and someone was driving by his outhouse he would wave at them threw his screen door he used instead of a regular door. The people would wave back at him (sometimes).